Case number:	Vj-176/2006
Type of case:	Unfair manipulation of consumer choice
Undertaking(s) concerned:	Unitravel Utazásszervező Kft. (Unitravel Tour Operator Ltd.)
Short description:	Deceptive price indications regarding tours.
Decision:	The GVH established in its decision on 3 May 2007, that Unitravel Utazásszervező Kft. informed consumers in a deceptive way about the price of three of the tours it organised in 2006 since the information given by it about the participation fees and the costs to be paid in addition to the participation fee was misleading. The undertaking also infringed the law, when it stated in its programme-leaflets, that it offered the lowest prices on the market. Unitravel Utazásszervező was fined HUF 1 million because its behaviour infringed the Competition Act.
